Message From Neale

Dear Friend,

Your coming to this event means more to me than I could ever tell you. It says to me that you are one of the courageous ones. Someone on whom we can count on to continue the silent, individual search for the highest truth in order to make a difference in your own life.

Why this means so much to me is that I know that when you make a difference in your own life, you make a difference in your country and in the world. And the world is urgently in need of being made different now.

I know that most of you have come to this event because you have been touched in an important way by the messages in the With God series of books. Others of you may be here out of simple curiosity, having heard about these books and having wondered what all the commotion is about. In either case, I see you in the category of courageous people that I have described, for it takes courage even to be curious, and that is not a courage I dismiss lightly.

Part of the challenge we face in the world today is that so many people already have their minds made up about everything. About politics, about religion, about economics, about life itself. They feel that they have all the answers, and there is nothing further to question. There is merely to implement the answers, to insist on the answers, to stick to the answers no matter what.

Yet this is dogma, and dogma is killing us. Our refusal to look for new answers — or to even consider the possibility that new answers might exist — at a time when it is clear to all of us that the old answers are no longer working, is bringing an end to the experience of life on this planet as we have known it.

Of course it does not have to be like this. And it will not be, so long as people at least have the courage to ask, “Might there be another way?”

There are other ways to live our lives, other ways to interact together, other ways to resolve our differences, to deal with our major conflicts, and to reach decisions affecting the huge collective that we call Humanity.

So welcome. And I invite you to join with us in changing lives and changing the world, one person at a time, starting with ourselves.

I send you my love,

Neale

A Powerful Opportunity to create ownership of your life!

LIVE THE EXTRAORDINARY. This program revolves around a central theme, “The Purpose of Life is to Re-create Your Self Anew”. It captures that theme and renders it functional. You are about to be given the key to the Universe. You will then be handed the tools with which to fashion the fulfilling life you have always yearned for: The Life of Your Dreams!

Neale’s gentle nature and profound wisdom will shed light on topics that we humans strive for decades to understand. His ability to distill down even the most complex of concepts makes everything simple and clear, so that you constantly gain valuable insights and breakthroughs from what is learnt.

True success and happiness means balancing and integrating all aspects of our lives. Neale will deliberate on topics that are relevant to everyone, enabling us to be whole and complete.

An Event of a Lifetime that will alter your perception of life forever!

You can create a life that you truly want. You can have it all – money, relationships, family, happiness, freedom and anything else that you’ve ever dreamt of. This program is based on one of the most astonishing books of our time and a world-wide publishing phenomenon, Conversations With God.

The messages in the books can be reduced to four sentences:

1. We are all one
2. There's enough
3. BE the change we wish to see
4. Ours is not a better way, ours is merely another way.

The living of these four sentences could change your life and the world.

Neale will discuss principles from his books and give practical applications on how you can use them on a day to day basis. This inspiring event is very different from any other programs. It’s not about positive thinking or motivational tools.

It’s an interaction and experiential dialogue about powerful living. It is everything you’ve ever wanted to know about Life but didn’t know who to ask.

“Over the past 20 years, I’ve seen literally hundreds of speakers – people like Anthony Robbins, Tom Hopkins, Stephen Covey, and many, many others. Neale Donald Walsch is truly extraordinary. He impacts you in an amazing way.” - Paul (Italy)

Neale's Story

It's been 12 years since Neale Donald Walsch fired off an angry letter to God – and God wrote back. History has made prophets or heretics out of those who claimed intimacy with the Divine. Walsch avoided both by becoming an author and speaker.

An auto accident broke his neck and nearly ended his life. He needed a year's rehab to learn to walk again. He had not one but four failed marriages. He lived on the streets homeless. His health declined. He was behind on his bills. He was collecting cans and bottles to return them for the deposit. He was literally at rock bottom!

"What does it take," he angrily scratched across a yellow legal pad, "to make life work?" It was a spiteful, passionate letter, filled with angry questions. (Those might even be your questions!) Now most people know that prayer means talking to God. But today, nobody talks with God. That kind of stuff doesn't happen right? At least not to you and me.

Now well chronicled and widely talked about, it was this questioning letter that received a Divine answer. Neale says that he heard a voice, soft and kind, warm and loving, that gave him an answer to this and other numerous questions.

Awestruck and inspired, he quickly scribbled these responses onto the pad. More questions came, and, as fast as they occurred to him, answers were given in the same still soft voice, which now seemed placed inside his head. Before he knew it, Neale found himself engaged in a two-way on-paper dialogue. He continued this first "conversation" for hours, and had many more in the weeks that followed, always awakening in the middle of the night and being drawn back to his legal pad.

Neale's verbatim handwritten notes would later become the best-selling Conversations With God books. He says the process was "exactly like taking dictation," and that the dialogue created in this way was published without significant alteration or editing.

Conversations With God was a runaway international bestseller. It was on the New York Times Bestseller list for 2½ years! The first book in the series was published in '95. The second in '97 and the third in '98. Together, they have sold 3.5 million copies and have been translated into 34 languages. Industry insiders consider Conversations With God as a world-wide publishing phenomenon.

Overnight, thousands of people swamped Neale with questions. Patiently, Neale brought meaning back into the lives of millions of people who had unanswered questions and wanted direction in their lives. Neale is well sought-after by people all over the world and has touched the lives of millions with his workshops and programs.

Walsch's "Conversations With God" series paints a picture of a man meaningfully engaged with the challenging questions that are in all our hearts. Its contribution – minus the evangelical or cultic leanings you might expect – turns out to be wise, entertaining, homespun wisdom on understanding human experience and embracing the greater possibilities that life offers.
